Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the portion of fluid stream flowing through the volumetric flow device and the momentum device (claims 16, 18 and 33) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2855

3. Claims 1-5, 8, 9, 11, 12, 15, 17, 19-23, 25-27, 32, 34 and 35 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Farchi et al. (5,461,930) (hereinafter Farchi).

Farchi teaches a device and method for determining mass flow rate of a fluid stream comprising a volumetric flow device (10), a momentum device (12, 14) and a processing device connected to the volumetric device and the momentum device to determine the flow rate. As to the determining the flow rate by multiplying the density with the volumetric flow rate is inherent using known formulas as it is known to that mass flow rate is nothing more than a product of the volume and the density of the flowing medium through the flow path.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6, 7, 10, 13, 14, 16, 18, 24, 28-31 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Farchi in view of acknowledged prior art information.

Farchi teaches all the features of the instant invention except for the various steps of determining the flow rate. It would have been obvious to a skilled artisan to manipulate any known relationship in a processing device to determine any needed parameter since such determinations are notoriously well-known in the flow metering art. Furthermore, such determinations are made based on the need of an individual. As to the diameter of the pipe, the pipe size can be selected based on the type and environment the device would be used. As to the wedge meter having a wedge element comprising an abrasion resistant material would be inherent as admitted by the applicant that such requirements should be fulfilled based on the type the device is being used.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Sabin et al. (4,604,902) teach a flow measuring device employing a volumetric flow device and a momentum device communicating with a processing device.
